ERRORS

11 +19 incorrect pages found in sitemap.xml9 +1

About this issue: A sitemap.xml file makes it easier for crawlers to discover the pages on your website. Only good pages intended for your visitors should be included in your sitemap.xml file. This error is triggered if your sitemap.xml contains URLs that: 1. lead to webpages with the same content. 2. redirect to a different webpage. 3. return non-200 status code. Populating your file with such URLs will confuse search engines, cause unnecessary crawling or may even result in your sitemap being rejected. How to fix: Review your sitemap.xml for any redirected, non-canonical or non-200 URLs. Provide the final destination URLs that are canonical and return a 200 status code.

Robots.txt file has format errors1 0

About this issue: If your robots.txt file is poorly configured, it can cause you a lot of problems. Webpages that you want to be promoted in search results may not be indexed by search engines, while some of your private content may be exposed to users. So, one configuration mistake can damage your search rankings, ruining all your search engine optimization efforts. How to fix: Review your robots.txt file and fix all errors, if there are any. You can check your file using Google's robots.txt Tester: https://www.google.com/webmasters/tools/robots-testing-tool?

utm_source=support.google.com/webmasters/&utm_medium=referral&utm_campaign=6155685. For information on how to configure your robots.txt, please see this article: https://developers.google.com/webmasters/control-crawl-index/docs/robots_txt.

No redirect or canonical to HTTPS homepage from HTTP version1 0

About this issue: If you're running both HTTP and HTTPS versions of your homepage, it is very important to make sure that their coexistence doesn't impede your SEO. Search engines are not able to figure out which page to index and which one to prioritize in search results. As a result, you may experience a lot of problems, including pages competing with each other, traffic loss and poor placement in search results. To avoid these issues, you must instruct search engines to only index the HTTPS version. How to fix: Do either of the following: 1. Redirect your HTTP page to the HTTPS version via a 301 redirect. 2. Mark up your HTTPS version as the preferred one by adding a `rel="canonical"` to your HTTP pages.

WARNINGS

113 +5
58 pages have low text-HTML ratio

About this issue: Your text to HTML ratio indicates the amount of actual text you have on your webpage compared to the amount of code. This issue is triggered when your text to HTML is 10% or less. Search engines have begun focusing on pages that contain more content. That's why a higher text to HTML ratio means your page has a better chance of getting a good position in search results. Less code increases your page's load speed and also helps your rankings. It also helps search engine robots crawl your website faster. How to fix: Split your webpage's text content and code into separate files and compare their size. If the size of your code file exceeds the size of the text file, review your page's HTML code and consider optimizing its structure and removing embedded scripts and styles.

32 images don't have alt attributes

About this issue: Alt attributes within `` tags are used by search engines to understand the contents of your images. If you neglect alt attributes, you may miss the chance to get a better placement in search results because alt attributes allow you to rank in image search results. Not using alt attributes also negatively affects the experience of visually impaired users and those who have disabled images in their browsers. For more information, please see these articles: Using ALT attributes smartly: <https://webmasters.googleblog.com/2007/12/using-alt-attributes-smartly.html> and Google Image Publishing Guidelines: <https://support.google.com/webmasters/answer/114016?hl=en>. How to fix: Specify a relevant alternative attribute inside an `` tag for each image on your website, e.g., "``".

11 pages have duplicate H1 and title tags

About this issue: It is a bad idea to duplicate your title tag content in your first-level header. If your page's `<title>` and `<h1>` tags match, the latter may appear over-optimized to search engines. Also, using the same content in titles and headers means a lost opportunity to incorporate other relevant keywords for your page. For more information, please see this Google article: <https://support.google.com/webmasters/answer/35624>. How to fix: Try to create different content for your `<title>` and `<h1>` tags.

11 +1
5 pages have too much text within the title tags

About this issue: Most search engines truncate titles containing more than 70 characters. Incomplete and shortened titles look unappealing to users and won't entice them to click on your page. For more information, please see this Google article: <https://support.google.com/webmasters/answer/35624>. How to fix: Try to rewrite your page titles to be 70 characters or less.

5 +1
4 pages have a low word count

About this issue: This issue is triggered if the number of words on your webpage is less than 200. The amount of text placed on your webpage is a quality signal to search engines. Search engines prefer to provide as much information to users as possible, so pages with longer content tend to be placed higher in search results, as opposed to those with lower word counts. For more information, please view this video: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=w3-obcXkyA4>. How to fix: Improve your on-page content and be sure to include more than 200 meaningful words.

4 0

3 external links are broken

3 -1

About this issue: Broken external links lead users from one website to another and bring them to non-existent webpages. Multiple broken links negatively affect user experience and may worsen your search engine rankings because crawlers may think that your website is poorly maintained or coded. Please note that our crawler may detect a working link as broken. Generally, this happens if the server hosting the website you're referring to blocks our crawler from accessing this website. How to fix: Please follow all links reported as broken. If a target webpage returns an error, remove the link leading to the error page or replace it with another resource. If the links reported as broken do work when accessed with a browser, you should contact the website's owner and inform them about the issue.

NOTICES

352 -18

332 URLs with a permanent redirect

332 -22

About this issue: Although using permanent redirects (a 301 or 308 redirect) is appropriate in many situations (for example, when you move a website to a new domain, redirect users from a deleted page to a new one, or handle duplicate content issues), we recommend that you keep them to a reasonable minimum. Every time you redirect one of your website's pages, it decreases your crawl budget, which may run out before search engines can crawl the page you want to be indexed. Moreover, too many permanent redirects can be confusing to users. How to fix: Review all URLs with a permanent redirect. Change permanent redirects to a target page URL where possible.

13 outgoing external links contain nofollow attributes

13 +3

About this issue: A nofollow attribute is an element in an  tag that tells crawlers not to follow the link. "Nofollow" links don't pass any link juice or anchor texts to referred webpages. The unintentional use of nofollow attributes may have a negative impact on the crawling process and your rankings. How to fix: Make sure you haven't used nofollow attributes by mistake. Remove them from  tags, if needed.

4 pages have only one incoming internal link

4 +1

About this issue: Having very few incoming internal links means very few visits, or even none, and fewer chances of placing in search results. It is a good practice to add more incoming internal links to pages with useful content. That way, you can rest assured that users and search engines will never miss them. How to fix: Add more incoming internal links to pages with important content.

2 subdomains don't support HSTS

2 0

About this issue: HTTP Strict Transport Security (HSTS) informs web browsers that they can communicate with servers only through HTTPS connections. So, to ensure that you don't serve unsecured content to your audience, we recommend that you implement HSTS support. How to fix: Use a server that supports HSTS.

1 page is blocked from crawling

1 0

About this issue: If a page cannot be accessed by search engines, it will never appear in search results. A page can be blocked from crawling either by a robots.txt file or a noindex meta tag. How to fix: Make sure that pages with valuable content are not blocked from crawling by mistake.

Incorrect pages found in sitemap.xml

i About this issue: A sitemap.xml file makes it easier for crawlers to discover the pages on your website. Only good pages intended for your visitors should be included in your sitemap.xml file. This error is triggered if your sitemap.xml contains URLs that: 1. lead to webpages with the same content. 2. redirect to a different webpage. 3. return non-200 status code. Populating your file with such URLs will confuse search engines, cause unnecessary crawling or may even result in your sitemap being rejected. How to fix: Review your sitemap.xml for any redirected, non-canonical or non-200 URLs. Provide the final destination URLs that are canonical and return a 200 status code.

i About this issue: Alt attributes within tags are used by search engines to understand the contents of your images. If you neglect alt attributes, you may miss the chance to get a better placement in search results because alt attributes allow you to rank in image search results. Not using alt attributes also negatively affects the experience of visually impaired users and those who have disabled images in their browsers. For more information, please see these articles: Using ALT attributes smartly: <https://webmasters.googleblog.com/2007/12/using-alt-attributes-smartly.html> and Google Image Publishing Guidelines: <https://support.google.com/webmasters/answer/114016?hl=en>. How to fix: Specify a relevant alternative attribute inside an tag for each image on your website, e.g., "".

i About this issue: It is a bad idea to duplicate your title tag content in your first-level header. If your page's <title> and <h1> tags match, the latter may appear over-optimized to search engines. Also, using the same content in titles and headers means a lost opportunity to incorporate other relevant keywords for your page. For more information, please see this Google article: <https://support.google.com/webmasters/answer/35624>. How to fix: Try to create different content for your <title> and <h1> tags.

i About this issue: Most search engines truncate titles containing more than 70 characters. Incomplete and shortened titles look unappealing to users and won't entice them to click on your page. Low word count i About this issue: This issue is triggered if the number of words on your webpage is less than 200. The amount of text placed on your webpage is a quality signal to search engines. Search engines prefer to provide as much information to users as possible, so pages with longer content tend to be placed higher in search results, as opposed to those with lower word counts. For more information, please view this video: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=w3-obcXkyA4>. How to fix: Improve your on-page content and be sure to include more than 200 meaningful words.

Broken external links

i About this issue: Broken external links lead users from one website to another and bring them to non-existent webpages. Multiple broken links negatively affect user experience and may worsen your search engine rankings because crawlers may think that your website is poorly maintained or coded. Please note that our crawler may detect a working link as broken. Generally, this happens if the server hosting the website you're referring to blocks our crawler from accessing this website. How to fix: Please follow all links reported as broken. If a target webpage returns an error, remove the link leading to the error page or replace it with another resource. If the links reported as broken do work when accessed with a browser, you should contact the website's owner and inform them about the issue.

Permanent redirects

i About this issue: Although using permanent redirects (a 301 or 308 redirect) is appropriate in many situations (for example, when you move a website to a new domain, redirect users from a deleted page to a new one, or handle duplicate content issues), we recommend that you keep them to a reasonable minimum. Every time you redirect one of your website's pages, it decreases your crawl budget, which may run out before search engines can crawl the page you want to be indexed. Moreover, too many permanent redirects can be confusing to users. How to fix: Review all URLs with a permanent redirect. Change permanent redirects to a target page URL where possible.

Nofollow attributes in outgoing external links

i About this issue: A `nofollow` attribute is an element in an `` tag that tells crawlers not to follow the link. "Nofollow" links don't pass any link juice or anchor texts to referred webpages. The unintentional use of `nofollow` attributes may have a negative impact on the crawling process and your rankings. How to fix: Make sure you haven't used `nofollow` attributes by mistake. Remove them from `` tags, if needed.

Pages with only one internal link

i About this issue: Having very few incoming internal links means very few visits, or even none, and fewer chances of placing in search results. It is a good practice to add more incoming internal links to pages with useful content. That way, you can rest assured that users and search engines will never miss them. How to fix: Add more incoming internal links to pages with important content.

No HSTS support

i About this issue: HTTP Strict Transport Security (HSTS) informs web browsers that they can communicate with servers only through HTTPS connections. So, to ensure that you don't serve unsecured content to your audience, we recommend that you implement HSTS support. How to fix: Use a server that supports HSTS.
